
If your instructor has supplied you with a book or handout for APA citations, use that information rather than this handout. See the last page here for a sample References page. If you need citations for items that are not in this guide sheet, contact www.apastyle.org or a Kirkwood librarian. Page numbers refer to relevant pages in the Publication Manual of the American Psychological Association, 6th Edition.

Important Information

If there is no date listed, use: (n.d.). If there is no author listed, start with the article title followed by the date.

Use the state abbreviation following all cities in the U.S.
For cities in other countries, write out the country name. If the state is given in the publisher's name, do not include it in the location:
East Lansing: University of Michigan Press

Shorten publisher names. For Harcourt Brace, use: Harcourt
Keep the word: Press. Keep the word: Books. Eliminate other words that do not identify the publisher, such as Inc. or Publishers.

If the author is Mary Sue Allen, use: Allen, M. S. Put a space between the initials.

List the authors or editors for each citation in the order given on the publication.

Capitalize proper nouns and the first word of a book title, Internet article title, a magazine article title and a subtitle.

Use italics for book titles, magazine titles, newspaper names, and Internet article titles.

For line breaks only divide a URL after a slash or before a dot.

*Ask your instructor before the first paper in each class whether they want links in Internet sources to follow APA rules or to link to where you found it (EBSCO database, etc.).

Books (Pages 202-205)

Single Author

Explanation:

Example:

Two Authors

Three to Seven Authors

Interesting topics for research papers. Bethesda, MD: Roundtree Press.
More Than Seven Authors (p. 198)

What color is your red wagon? Philadelphia, PA: Liberty Books.

Second or Later Edition

Corporate Author and the Same Corporation as Publisher (p. 203)

Reference Books and Book Chapters (Pages 202-203)

Signed Article (An author is listed, usually at the end of the article.) If there is a large editorial board, use the lead editor followed by et al.

Unsigned Article (No author is listed.) If there are only a few editors, put (Eds.) after the editors' names.

Edited Book

Chapter in Anthology or Compilation with the author of the chapter given
Explanation:
Author of Chapter (date of chapter or if none given, date of the book). Title of chapter. In Editor(s)’ of the book name(s) (Ed.), or (Eds.), Title of the book in italics (pages of the entire chapter).

Example:

Separately Titled Volume in a Multivolume Work
DSM-5 (Corporate author)

See link below for more detailed DSM-5 examples and remember to add double spacing to their examples. http://blog.apastyle.org/apastyle/2013/08/how-to-cite-the-dsm5-in-apa-style.html

Brochure

Government Publications

Periodicals (Pages 198-202)
Periodicals include items published on a regular basis such as journals, magazines, newspapers, and newsletters.

Magazine

Journal Article with doi
Use the digital object identifier (doi) if it is available in the abstract in a database.

Journal Paginated by Issue with no doi
(The numbering of pages starts over with each issue.) Give the issue number.
In the following example, 181 is the volume and 3 is the issue. The volume is in italics, but the issue is not.
Newspapers (Pages 200-201)

Signed Article (An author is listed, usually under the headline.)

Unsigned Article

Internet Sources
Official APA rules say to include the link to the company website of the original source of the article, even if you actually got it from a library database and even if it isn’t actually available on the company website. Find the website by doing a Google search for the publication title. Double check with your instructor if they want you to follow APA rules on this or if they’d prefer you include the link to where you found it (for example Ebsco), before your first paper in each class. The examples below show company websites.

With an author and date

Without an author or date

Electronic version of a book (pp. 191, 203): Use the URL of the publisher’s Web site.

Online magazine article (If from a library database, do not give the Internet address.)

Online Newspaper Article (If from a library database, do not give the Internet address.)
Personal Interviews, Letters or E-Mails

From the Publication Manual of the American Psychological Association, p. 179:

Personal communications may be letters, memos, some electronic communications (e.g. e-mail or messages from nonarchived discussion groups or electronic bulletin boards), personal interviews, telephone conversations and the like. Because they do not provide recoverable data, personal communications are not included in the reference list. Cite personal communications in text only. Give the initials as well as the surname of the communicator, and provide as exact a date as possible:

T. K. Lutes (personal communication, April 18, 2014)

(V. G. Nguyen, personal communication, September 28, 2011)

Audiovisual Media

Television Programs (Page 210)

Motion Pictures (Page 209)

Kanopy Streaming Videos

Explaination:
Publisher (Producer). (Publication Year). Title of the video: Capitalize the first word in the subtitle [Format]. Retrieved from Database name.

In-Text Citations for APA (Pages 174-179)

- The ending quotation mark comes before the in text citation.
- The period at the end of the sentence comes after the citation.
- If the documentation follows a BLOCK QUOTATION, place the punctuation before the citation.
- All direct quotations need a specific part of the source cited (page, etc.). With paraphrases you may or may not include the specific part. Ask your instructor which way they want it.

The trek was long and “[t]here were jungle animals everywhere” (Stevens, 2009, p. 51).

Interview
“I was stationed at Pearl Harbor” (J. Rivera, personal communication, March 24, 2012).

On-line Reference
“The crowd laughed loudly and long” (Johnson, 1999, para. 23). OR (Jones, 2012, Conclusion section, para. 1)

If no author is given, use a shortened form of the title, including the first word listed in the list of references, in place of the author’s name. Use n.d. if no date is given.

("Super," n.d., para. 5)

Video Reference See reference to APA Style Blog
For videos that you are paraphrasing, use the beginning of the citation and the year (Overdue Productions, 2009). For direct quotes include a timestamp. (Overdue Productions, 2009, 4:30).

Secondary Source: Brown (as cited in Jones, 2010) wrote that . . . (Include Jones, not Brown, in the reference list.)
The reference list should be on a separate sheet of paper with one-inch margins. The word, References, is centered. Do not bold any information. The font and its size should be the same throughout the list and the same as the text of the paper, usually size 12. The entire list is double-spaced (one line in between each line of print).

Do not put extra spaces between the citations. The second and subsequent lines should be indented. Alphabetize the citations in one list. If there is an author or editor, use the last name for alphabetizing. If there is no author or editor, use the first word in the title, excluding A, An, and The when you alphabetize.
